[Written from?] Feels a democracy in every way superior to a monarchy. Finds there the fullest scope for ambitions directed in their proper channels, nor is merit lost sight of among the ignorant herd. Moreover, monarchy develops the most infamous characteristics. Recommends Paine's Common Sense. Describes the siege of Quebec, the movements of Washington, and affairs in Carolina, where a new constitution is being drawn up. A.L.S. 5p. 8 x 6 in.

To Mrs. Maria (Weston) Chapman

Cincinnati, Ohio. Because of the high respect that the writer has for the addressee's opinions, she is consulting her in a private matter. About a month ago, the writer and her brother were appointed respectively instructress in needle work and professor of mathematics in Bellevue Female Seminary. The brother received, a week ago, a written notice that his services were no longer wanted, "his style of dress being unsuited to his position." The writer has resigned her position also, feeling sure that the matter of dress was merely a pretext and that he was being persecuted for his opinions. The seminary is frequented by pupils from the South.

To General Henry Knox, secretary of war.

[Headquarters, Grand Glaize, Ohio. ] Informs Knox that the army took possession of the post on August 6. The enemy did not become aware of his approach until his men were well into the country and because of this there was no loss of life. The deserter Newman has given the enemy exact information of the numbers of the army. Comments on the beauty of the spot where he is encamped. Relates the building of the two forts, Defiance and Adams. Plans to make a decisive move forward on the morrow, heading toward Roche de Bout; yet he has sent a last offer to the Indians to make peace if they will. Is confident of victory if the enemy desires to fight.

New York. The New York Society favors the formation of a national Executive Committee. Attacks the politicians in Washington. Believes that the Abolitionists should consecrate their children to the cause. A national society should arouse the women of the country from their present indifference and lethargic attitude. In a postscript to Mrs. Maria W. Chapman; Mrs. A. A. Cox tells the cost of some work done for the Anti-Slavery Fair in Boston. Says there has been a real Anti-Slavery Jubilee in New York, which she calls the Convention of Lecturers. Says the Grimké sisters are "still our guests."
